II. GENERAL INFORMATION:

History of Riverside Park

In 1922 Riverside Park became the second public park in Lynchburg. Located adjacent to the Historic District of Rivermont, Riverside Park is serene and expansive, with 47 acres of gently rolling land. When development began on Riverside Park it became immediately popular with the community, and though resources were scarce, improvements were continuously made, so that by the 1940's, roadways, gardens, numerous tree plantings, walkways and a swimming pool were all in place.

During the Depression era, workers from the Works Progress Administration (WPA) and the City Farm created many of the historic paths, overlooks and rock walls, as well as the Alpine Trail, which was the first walking trail established in Lynchburg. Landscape features include gardens designed by Charles Gillette for the historic Miller Claytor house, as well as numerous flower and shrub beds located throughout the park.

The swimming pool was very successful, and remained the major recreational attraction at Riverside until the fight over integration in 1961 caused the closing of all public pools in the City. However, an outdoor "transportation museum" created by the City in 1962 created a new attraction in the park, drawing thousands of visitors each year. The museum showcased three historic railroad cars, a Fink Deck Truss bridge and the hull of the packet boat, Marshall. The rail cars include a 1947 steam locomotive and tender and a 1910 caboose from the Norfolk and Western Railroad. The historic packet boat Marshall, once called "the Queen of the James," carried the body of Stonewall Jackson to his final resting place in Lexington. The Fink Deck Truss Bridge, constructed between 1850 and 1875, is designated a National Historic Civil Engineering Landmark. It was used by the Norfolk and Western railroad, and is the only known survivor of its type in the nation.

Riverside Park is also home to the Miller Claytor house, which is was the fourth house to be constructed in Lynchburg. It was moved from the corner of 8th Street and Church Street to Riverside Park and restored in 1936 as a Sesquicentennial project of the Lynchburg Historical Society.

During the expansion of Lynchburg's parks and trails system in the late 20th century, Riverside Park remained intact, though perhaps a bit neglected. The affection felt for the park by the community has, however, always been evident in the generous donations of citizens, with gifts of trees, playground equipment, benches, gardens and other features. Several "friends" groups have been active in Riverside Park throughout its history, seeking always to preserve and improve their park. Today, the park is poised for revival with many exciting partnerships in place to help reconnect the park to the community.

Current Efforts

The citizens of Lynchburg have considerable interest in the revitalization of Riverside Park. The Lynchburg Department of Parks and Recreation is partnering with several groups to facilitate work on specific projects and to work collaboratively to develop and implement a Master Plan.

The projects underway include the following:

Lynchburg Kiwanis Club: Restoration and preservation of the train. The Kiwanis have completed the work on the engine and tender and have prepared the caboose for restoration. Because of extensive deterioration the passenger car will be dismantled and scrapped. A conceptual design is complete for a "shed" to cover the train. The long term goal is to construct the shed and include the train in the historical interpretation of the park.

Lynchburg Historical Foundation: The Foundation is working to preserve the Marshall Packet boat. Currently the packet boat hull is being cleaned with soda with eventual plans to construct a shelter for the boat and provide historical interpretation. The Foundation also owns and cares for the Miller Claytor House.

Lynchburg Garden Club: The LGC has adopted Riverside Park as a long term club project. Currently, members are researching the history of the park and hope to collect oral histories. The club will be active in generating community interest in the planning process. The LGC is most interested in restoring the gardens and historical structures of the park and are contributing to this effort. The LGC also cares for the gardens at the Miller Claytor House.

In addition to the community partnerships the City applied for and received a Transportation Enhancement grant for the renovation of the park. The City intends to reapply in November for a second year of funding to continue the revitalization efforts of the park.

Although several projects are underway to improve the park a master plan is needed to direct renovations and improvements for the next several years. Riverside Park is one of two historic parks in Lynchburg. The master planning process will generate public interest, civic pride and a sense of public ownership that this park so richly deserves.

III. SCOPE OF SERVICES

The intent of this Request for Proposal is to obtain proposals for services from qualified landscape architects and/or planners duly licensed to conduct business in the Commonwealth of Virginia, for the design, development, and preparation of a Master Plan for Riverside Park, located at Rivermont Avenue, Lynchburg, Virginia. This project will be managed in two phases. The first phase of the project will consist of the design and preparation of the Riverside Park Master Plan, to include: development of long range plans, goals, and guidelines for site renovation and improvement of the park. A second phase of the project may include development of specific/detailed landscape designs, development of construction/bid documents for the first phase of the park improvements as determined by the Master Plan. If a satisfactory resolution has not been reached within thirty (30) days after the Notice of Default is sent to the Contractor, the City may terminate the Contract by notifying the Contractor in writing of its decision to terminate the Contract. R. Termination for Convenience

The performance of work under contract may be terminated by the City upon written notice to the Contractor without cause, for any reason in whole or in part; whenever it is determined that such termination is in the City's best interest. During the hearing, the protesting party shall have the opportunity to present pertinent information and to cross-examine adverse witnesses. The hearing shall be an informal administrative proceeding rather than a judicial-type trial, and a disinterested person, other than a City employee, appointed by the City Manager, will conduct it.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me), and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding, and
3. I am a U.S. person (including a U.S. resident alien).

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the Certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. (See the instructions on page 2.)

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must get your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to give your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

1. Certify the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee.

If you are a foreign person, use the appropriate Form W-8. See Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities.

Note: If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

What is backup withholding? Persons making certain payments to you must under certain conditions withhold and pay to the IRS 30% of such payments after December 31, 2001 (29% after December 31, 2003). This is called "backup withholding." Payments that may be subject to backup withholding include interest, dividends, broker and barter exchange transactions, rents, royalties, nonemployee pay, and certain payments from fishing boat operators. Real estate transactions are not subject to backup withholding.

You will not be subject to backup withholding on payments you receive if you give the requester your correct TIN, make the proper certifications, and report all your taxable interest and dividends on your tax return.

Payments you receive will be subject to backup withholding if:

1. You do not furnish your TIN to the requester, or
2. You do not certify your TIN when required (see the Part II instructions on page 2 for details), or
3. The IRS tells the requester that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or
4. The IRS tells you that you are subject to backup withholding because you did not report all your interest and dividends on your tax return (for reportable interest and dividends only), or

5. You do not certify to the requester that you are not subject to backup withholding under 4 above (for reportable interest and dividend accounts opened after 1983 only).

Certain payees and payments are exempt from backup withholding. See the instructions on page 2 and the separate Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9.

Penalties

Failure to furnish TIN. If you fail to furnish your correct TIN to a requester, you are subject to a penalty of $50 for each such failure unless your failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

Civil penalty for false information with respect to withholding. If you make a false statement with no reasonable basis that results in no backup withholding, you are subject to a $500 penalty.

Criminal penalty for falsifying information. Willfully falsifying certifications or affirmations may subject you to criminal penalties including fines and/or imprisonment.

Misuse of TINs. If the requester discloses or uses TINs in violation of Federal law, the requester may be subject to civil and criminal penalties.

Specific Instructions

Name. If you are an individual, you must generally enter the name shown on your social security card. However, if you have changed your last name, for instance, due to marriage without informing the Social Security Administration of the name change, enter your first name, the last name shown on your social security card, and your new last name.

If the account is in joint names, list first and then circle the name of the person or entity whose number you enter in Part I of the form.

Sole proprietor. Enter your individual name as shown on your social security card on the "Name" line. You may enter your business, trade, or "doing business as (DBA)" name on the "Business name" line.

Limited liability company (LLC). If you are a single-member LLC (including a foreign LLC with a domestic owner) that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner under Treasury regulations section 301.7701-3, enter the owner's name on the "Name" line. Enter the LLC's name on the "Business name" line.

Other entities. Enter your business name as shown on required Federal tax documents on the "Name" line. This name should match the name shown on the charter or other legal document creating the entity. You may enter any business, trade, or DBA name on the "Business name" line.

Exempt from backup withholding. If you are exempt, enter your name as described above, then check the "Exempt from backup withholding" box in the line following the business name, sign and date the form.

Individuals (including sole proprietors) are not exempt from backup withholding. Corporations are exempt from backup withholding for certain payments, such as interest and dividends. For more information on exempt payees, see the Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9.

If you are a nonresident alien or a foreign entity not subject to backup withholding, give the requester the appropriate completed Form W-8.

Note: If you are exempt from backup withholding, you should still complete this form to avoid possible erroneous backup withholding.

Part I—Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box.

If you are a resident alien and you do not have and are not eligible to get an SSN, your TIN is your IRS individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). Enter it in the social security number box. If you do not have an ITIN, see How to get a TIN below.

If you are a sole proprietor and you have an EIN, you may enter either your SSN or EIN. However, the IRS prefers that you use your SSN.

If you are an LLC that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner (see Limited liability company (LLC) above), and are owned by an individual, enter your SSN (or "pre-LLC" EIN, if desired). If the owner of a disregarded LLC is a corporation, partnership, etc., enter the owner's EIN.

Note: See the chart on this page for further clarification of name and TIN combinations.

How to get a TIN. If you do not have a TIN, apply for one immediately. To apply for an SSN, get Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card, from your local Social Security Administration office. Get Form W-7,

Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, to apply for an ITIN, or Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number, to apply for an EIN. You can get Forms W-7 and SS-4 from the IRS by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676) or from the IRS Web Site at www.irs.gov.

If you are asked to complete Form W-9 but do not have a TIN, write "Applied For" in the space for the TIN, sign and date the form, and give it to the requester. For interest and dividend payments, and certain payments made with respect to readily tradable instruments, generally you will have 60 days to get a TIN and give it to the requester before you are subject to backup withholding on payments. The 60-day rule does not apply to other types of payments. You will be subject to backup withholding on all such payments until you provide your TIN to the requester.

Note: Writing "Applied For" means that you have already applied for a TIN or that you intend to apply for one soon.

Caution: A disregarded domestic entity that has a foreign owner must use the appropriate Form W-8.

Part II—Certification

To establish to the withholding agent that you are a U.S. person, or resident alien, sign Form W-9. You may be requested to sign by the withholding agent even if items 1, 3, and 5 below indicate otherwise.

For a joint account, only the person whose TIN is shown in Part I should sign (when required). Exempt recipients, see Exempt from backup withholding above.

Signature requirements. Complete the certification as indicated in 1 through 5 below.

1. Interest, dividend, and barter exchange accounts opened before 1984 and broker accounts considered active during 1983. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification.

2. Interest, dividend, broker, and barter exchange accounts opened after 1983 and broker accounts considered inactive during 1983. You must sign the certification or backup withholding will apply. If you are subject to backup withholding and you are merely providing your correct TIN to the requester, you must cross out item 2 in the certification before signing the form.

3. Real estate transactions. You must sign the certification. You may cross out item 2 of the certification.

4. Other payments. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification unless you have been notified that you have previously given an incorrect TIN. "Other payments" include payments made in the course of the requester's trade or business for rents, royalties, goods (other than bills for merchandise), medical and health care services (including payments to corporations), payments to a nonemployee for services, payments to certain fishing boat crew members and fishermen, and gross proceeds paid to attorneys (including payments to corporations).

5. Mortgage interest paid by you, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, qualified tuition program payments (under section 529), IRA or Archer MSA contributions or distributions, and pension distributions. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification.

Privacy Act Notice

Section 6109 of the Internal Revenue Code requires you to give your correct TIN to persons who must file information returns with the IRS to report interest, dividends, and certain other income paid to you, mortgage interest you paid, the acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA or Archer MSA. The IRS uses the numbers for identification purposes and to help verify the accuracy of your tax return. The IRS may also provide this information to the Department of Justice for civil and criminal litigation, and to cities, states, and the District of Columbia to carry out their tax laws.

You must provide your TIN whether or not you are required to file a tax return. Payers must generally withhold 30% of taxable interest, dividend, and certain other payments to a payee who does not give a TIN to a payer. Certain penalties may also apply.
